President's Message

June 2025,

We're just days away from National Trails Day at Robbers Cave, June 6-8. We have so much planned and it's going to be fun. Don't forget to bring your important hat with it's story to share on Friday at 7pm. Saturday is a full day with meeting for lunch at the Boys Scout Camp, a beautiful horseshoe craft, games and the Hawaiian Luau with food and fun. Don't forget to bring a desert to share!

It's already half way through this year and it feels like it's mostly rained and flooded our trails. I'm sure hoping the second half is dryer. I have been able to log 200+ miles and hope to get many more the last five months. I hope you are logging yours. If not start now. We have prizes starting at 50 miles up to 500+.

June is a busy month for OETRA. We have a Moonlight ride, a Playday, and a Parade. Be sure and check the online calendar at OETRA.com for details. Our new website is so handy to use now. We've been tweaking it to work through any bugs and its getting easier all the time. Check it out to keep up to date on events.

It's time to make your reservations for Fall Color Ride. It does fill up fast so use recreation.gov to get a site now. It's Oct 31- Nov 2 at Cedar Lake.

As you ride always take your trimmers and snip as you ride. It helps keep the trails passable and takes a little bit of work from a lot of people.

Also: Extending a big Thank You from the club for the donation from Gwen Mills in memory of Joyce Bell.

See you on the trails

Jeanette

C Lazy U Ranch in Granby, Colorado by Nancy Allen

Someone asked me to report back after my stay at the C Lazy U in Granby Colorado. It was THE MOST AWESOME experience of my life!!

I attended a 5 day retreat with Barbra Schulte and Julie Goodnight. Barbra is in the Cowgirl Hall of Fame for cutting and Julie is a trainer who had a TV show on RFD TV for 12 years. Both are so friendly, warm and funny and are anxious to share their knowledge.

Each day we had a workshop/lecture/discussion followed by a lesson with each and a trail ride with the ranch's wranglers. We were in 3 groups of 13 based on experience/ability and were matched with a horse who we rode the whole week-end.

They have over 200 horses who pasture together. Each morning they ring a bell and the wranglers herd them all into the pens to prepare for their jobs or the farrier or vet. It is so amazing to see them all moving together and to hear their thundering hooves. Each evening they "jingle" the horses out again where they spend the night.

The pictures of the mountains can't even show how beautiful it is there. My cute mare is named Gabby and she was wonderful.

Cedar Lake - Carolyn Grayson

With time being a issue our group came to ride and enjoy the sights, sounds, and scenery in the 40 hours we had to work with.

Awesome views and great weather. Red Lick Creek and Cedar Creek were full and running. The foliage was out but the views always amaze.

A big thank you to all the workers and riders!

who don't want to ride as much as we did.

It was so wonderful to meet ladies from all over the country. We were all sad to leave on the 5th day! The mountains are beautiful and the trail rides up into them were breathtaking! We lucked out with perfect weather, 60's, until the last morning when we awoke to snow!

Do you love to ride your equine? Do you love to ride Oklahoma's equine trails? RIDE OKLAHOMA is an OETRA program where you track your mileage on each of your rides. At the end of the year, OETRA will present mileage awards (EVERYONE GETS A PRIZE) at the annual Christmas Party in Chandler. Must be an OETRA member to participate. You can even track your mileage riding at home!

Sardis Lake History

Article from the Sardis Lake at Potato Hills Central Equestrian Friends Facebook Group, posted by Susan Bates.

Save Oklahoma History—by Nick Joye Jonas.

The Old Sardis Store

Sardis was a community in northern Pushmataha County, Oklahoma, six miles northwest of Clayton.

A United States Post Office was established at Sardis, Indian Territory on February 20, 1905. It took its name from the nearby Sardis Indian Mission Church, (Cont. page 10)

Hickory Creek News—by Carolyn Grayson

The Wounded Warrior Ride, sponsored by Gene Autry Roping Club, had 27 riders, 16 trailers, and covered 8 miles in 3 hours. A variety of different riders made for an atmosphere broadening weekend.

Due to record rainfall Lake Texoma levels caused Hickory & Oil Springs Creek to be uncrossable. Hickory Creek is normal if Lake Texoma level is 622 ft. On Saturday 5/17/2025 (Wounded Warrior Ride), the level was 634 ft. With lots of sand, rock, and hills you can ride anywhere but into flooded areas. As of 5/19/2025 Lake Texoma level is 632 ft. Looks like it will be normal by June if the weather settles.

HICKORY CREEK FROM PAGE 5

The weekend of June 14th will be the "Strawberry Moon Ride." Primitive camping Friday and Saturday night, with potluck suppers. Water truck and pens available upon request.

We will ride out early Saturday morning, as well as Saturday night. Or come ride out at your leisure. Happy trails!

JUST IN TIME FOR TRAIL SEASON

*TRAIL ETIQUETTE*

These are still good rules to follow when going on a group ride. Today we have cell phones instead of walkie talkies (providing there is a good cell signal). Submitted by Terri Folks

GUIDELINES for TRAIL LEADERS (From The TrailRider Newsletter 3/94)

BEFORE THE RIDE:

- 1) Get your own drag rider and gate-opener for helpers
- 2) Assign drag rider or gate-opener to periodically move out to the side to re-count riders.

RECOMMENDED SUPPLIES to take on ride, packed by leader or helpers:

- 1) Hoof pick & jackknife
- 2) Pliers & wire cutters
- 3) Hole punch
- 4) Extra leather strings or long shoestrings
- 5) 25 ft. cotton rope
- 6) Halter and lead rope
- 7) Easy Boot (optional)
- 8) Basic first aid supplies: leg wrap, Cut & Heal, wound powder, baby diaper

BEFORE DEPARTURE:

- 1) Introduce yourself and your helpers.
- 2) Tell riders how long you expect to be gone.
- 3) If group will not return to camp for lunch, did everyone bring his own sack lunch?
-- OR -- If buying furnished lunch on the trail, did they bring money? (Continued on page 7)

Spring Wilderness Ride at Heaven's Gate

By Sherry Robinson

I pulled into Heaven's Gate with two horses. I don't typically carry two but Nugget was fitted with Scoot Boots and this was a test to see how they hold up in the rocky terrain. I separated her and my other main mare, Day. The next day 18 riders were saddled and the trailers and drivers were there to pick us up and haul to a trail head at Horsepen. These trails were put in by Susan Bates, D'Anna Miller, Colin Walker, and many other volunteers.

The Wilderness rides allow us to ride new trails that are too far from camp. It has gained significant popularity. Now that Dee has a host, Brigitte Schoof who is a trained chef, it makes staying there a treat. We ride all day, come in to camp about 4 pm and have dinner by 6. Nugget's boots held and we rode about 13 miles with a stop for lunch.

Nugget started off good at first, but later in the day she became more forward. I moved her to the back due to crowding the horse in front. She and I were getting dirty looks from the horse she was crowding. Darrell Buerky was riding drag on a big Quarter horse named Hoss and told me to put her behind his gelding, he doesn't care about a horse crowding him. Nugget finally calmed down and I made a mental note, "Maybe I should just have her on hay and not Alfalfa and Timothy grass pellets."

The next day I decided not to ride and helped drive by following the drivers to the trail head in Colin's van to carry drivers of the trailers. The owners of the truck and trailer were riding so we had volunteers move the trucks and trailers to the final trail head. This group had 6 trailers to ferry 28 horses and riders from the drop off to the next pick-up spot. This took all day to accomplish, we had about a 50 mile round trip and we had more trailers than drivers, so we had to return to get the last 2 trailers and move them to the trail end. I got back in time to get a shower before the crowd came in.

The Wilderness ride costs are your campsite and your donation to the drivers to help reimburse fuel and their time. The ride is from Wednesday to Saturday. The terrain is riding over some rough rock and you have to make sure your horse is in shape to climb steep hills and negotiate the descents. Heaven's Gate will have another ride this fall too.

4) Leader has a walkie-talkie back to base camp (today we all have cell phones). If a rider has an emergency, the leader will contact camp and will not proceed until arrangements have been made so that rider will not be left alone.

Trailer will come for horse if necessary.

ADVISE GROUP OF TRAIL ETIQUETTE:

- 1) Don't pass the leader.
  - 2) Don't tailgate. One horse length between is good.
  - 3) Red ribbon on tail of horse that kicks.
  - 4) No galloping up from behind.
  - 5) If passing, say so "passing on the left," etc.
  - 6) Usually go single file through a gate.
  - 7) Stay with the group. If you need otherwise, ask leader's permission.
- Remember, the leader is watchful for safety hazards such as bogs.
- 8) If you wish to go slower or faster, ask the leader to change the pace. We all want fun.
  - 9) Don't flip branches or reins.

10) Warn those behind you of hazards coming up.
(Low branch, hole, wire)

11) No crowding at waterhole. Encourage your horse to drink. Stay close, quietly while other horses drink.

12) Leave extra space between horses when going into and out of ravines.

13) Wait if others are breathing their horses or taking respiration reading.

14) If leader indicates horses should stop and rest part of the way up a long hill, stand your horse sideways. He gets more rest that way.

15) Rest stop: Porta-potties are strategically placed. If a rest stop is needed elsewhere, women will go one direction, men another. (Bring your own toilet tissue.) Tell the leader if you need a stop. if you have no need, hold someone else's horse.

16) Tell leader if you need to stop for any reason...tack adjustment, dropped item, unruly horse, etc.

17) Tell leader if you have an emergency need and must return to camp.

A RIDER MUST NOT LEAVE THE GROUP FOR ANY REASON WITHOUT TELLING THE LEADER.

18) If you are not using a trail bridle, preferably do not tie horse with bridle reins. Bring along a halter and lead. Tie high enough the horse won't get his foot over the line.

19) Whatever trash you bring in--paper, bottle or can--you should take out. Fruit peelings (biodegradable) are okay.

20) WHEN GROUP MOVES OUT: Leader calls out "#1" (for him/herself) and has everybody count off so we know exactly how many riders are in the group.

Sardis from page 5

which appears to have named itself after the Biblical city of Sardis.

During the early 1980s, Jack's Fork Creek was impounded by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, who built Sardis Lake. The lake, a flood control project, also held tourism potential and Oklahoma State Highway 43 was straightened and paved with black-top from the interchange at Daisy on the Indian Nation Turnpike to the lake, where it crosses the dam and connects to Oklahoma State Highway 2. This allowed for easier road connections to other parts of the state highway network. At this writing tourism has not been promoted heavily or its economic benefits realized at the lake.

In order to make way for the lake the community of Sardis was emptied. Its cemetery, now located on an island in the lake connected to the shore by a short causeway, is at the approximate location as it was originally, but the tombstones now sit on landfill and are many feet higher than originally. The graves they denote are below the bottom of the lake. The earliest gravestones are dated 1875, a testament to the community's early establishment.

Roman Nose Ride, April 2025

Posted on Roman Nose Trail Ride Facebook page:

We had a great ride in spite of the rain! Actually, the rain was very pleasant! Temps were perfect! The pastures were more lush than I've ever seen them! We had brave souls! Friday evening ride on the Wolfe ranch was amazing! Nicest ride I've had there! We just flipped Saturday around to be a leisurely morning listening to the pitter patter of rain on the roof, then headed out for an afternoon on the trails! We enjoyed the small groups! It was a trail guide treat!
